MR. ROOSEVELT'S REQUEST.

He Wants & Construction of the Will ta

Which Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt is an Helr.

In an action of James A. Roosevelt, as executor, for the construction of the will of John

Carow, who died in Liverpool on April 11,

1892, Justice Lawrence of the Supreme Court has permitted service to be made by publication of the summons in the different defendants. Carow was an uncle of Edith Kermit

Carow, who married Theodore Roosevelt.

His wife had died before him, so provisions made in the will for her had lapsed. The bulk of the estate was to be held in trust, and the income was to be divided into ten parts and given to beneficiaries pending the life of his wife. In the event of her death a tenth of the principal was to go to the Bible Society of

Now York and a tenth to the Board of Foreign the principal. Mrs. Roosevelt has three children.

The executor wants it decreed that Carow was a resident of England when he nied: that the will must be construed according to the laws of England, but that its trusts must be administered according to the laws of this State where the bulk of his property, which is in personalty, was. He wants it also decreed that the laws of England require bequests to be paid within a year, which has not been done in this case, and that any personal property not validly disposed of by will will not go under the laws of England to more remote relatives than nephews and pleces. He also wants it found that the laws of England permit a succession of such life estates.

SHOULD BE A ROLL OF HONOR.

A Call by a G. A. R. Post for the Publica-

At a regular meeting of Marcus L. Ward Post,

68, held in Memorial Hall. Newark, last Monday evening, the following resolution, offered by

Col. T. P. O'Reilly, was unanimously adopted:

Resolved. That the representatives of this post to the Department, through the proper channel, petition Congress to provide for the publication in the newspa-pers of the names and residences of all United States pensioners, the amount of chanal pension, and the na-ture of the disability or claim for which the pension is granted in each case.

The pension list, it was held, should be a roll of honor. Those who deserve to be horne upon it should feel proud of the fact, while any who may te fraudulently on it should be exposed

SUICIDE OF A NEGRO.

Jacob

II. Green, a Former Sleeping Car Porter, Hangs Himself.

Jacob H. Green, a negro, 24 years old, hanged himself yesterday morning at his home, 381

Wagner car, but had been ill and out of work for six months. He knelt on the projecting ledge of a closet in a bedroom adjoining the kitchen, and, winding a piece of assh cord three times around his neck, hitched the loop end over the top of a hinge, and, lowering his feet, slowly strangled himself.

Green's relations say that his filness had made him crazz, it is extremely rare for negroes to commit suicide. It is even said that the number of authenticated cases may be counted on the fingers of one hand.

SOWDEN HAD TWO FAMILIES.

Ris Real Name Was Ruttinger-The Dis-closure Made in His Will.

John Sowden, who was quite a wealthy man, died at his farm, Manetto Hill, at Hicksville, I. l., on June 5, 1873. His will disposed of the in Great South Bay, the house at 323 East Twenty-fourth street, and other property. His will also disclosed that Bowden was in reality John Casper Ruttinger, who had left a wife and three children in

He came here in 1803. A woman, whose malden name was Charlotte Mitchell, came with him. They lived together up to the time of his death. He had assumed the name of Sowden upon his arrival in this country, and he and Charlotte were known as Mr. and Mrs. Sowden. In his will, which was executed shortly before his death, Sowden gives all his personal property to Charlotte. He provides that the reaity shall be held in trust, the income to be hers until her remarriage, the principal them to go to his two children by her at their majority. The children are Frederick William Sowden, who is now 22 years old, and his younger elster Charlotte. Charlotte waste get his Long Island property and Frederick his realty in this city. In the event of the death of Charlotte's children, the property was to go to the two children of his "legal wife" in London.

Charlotte Sowden lost the income from the realty by her marriage to William Henry Durvea, Coroner of Hicksville, of which she is the Postmistress, on May 15, 1875. In 1876 William P. Farrie, who held two mortgages for Siu,000 on 323 East Twenty-fourth street, began forcelogure proceedings. He served the summons on Charlotte Sowden and on the trustees, but did not serve Frederick, who was then 12 years old. realty shall be held in trust, the income to be then 12 years old.

About a year ago, when Frederick became of age, he brought suit to recover the property because of such want of service. Justice Truax of the Supreme Court has decided that Frederick may redeem the property in paying back the mortgage money, and that Earle must account for the mesne rents.

ST. JUHN'S GUILD TO GET A SHARE.

Sustice Ingraham's Interpretation of the Will of Elizabeth Fogg.

The action to determine just what Elizabeth Fogg, who left more than a million dollars by her will, meant to do with $100,000 which she gave Charles B. Fosdick has been decided by Justice Ingraham of the Supreme Court.

She was ill on Dec. 10, 1800, when she sent for Foedick and gave him Gutta Percha and Rubber Manufacturing Company stock to the amount of $100,000, She said she wanted it to go. in amounts of $5,000, to twenty different atitutions. She culled out different institu tions with the aid of her maid until well in the morning, and next day gave Fosdick ten institutions. telling him to distribute the goney among them, instead of among twenty. They were: The Young Women's Christian association, the Diet Ritchen, Training school for Nurses, the Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergymen, St. John's Guild, the Home for Working Girls of West Eleventh street, the New York Homeonathic Medical College, the Unitarian Employment Society, the Home for the Aged, and the Old Ladies' Home in Charlestown, Mass.

On Dec. 20, 1860, she executed a codicil, providing for the distribution of this $100,000 among all the above institutions except St. John's Guild, the name of which had probably been overlooked in copying. The case was brought in the main to determine if the $100,000 among had been distributed among the ten institutions on the memorandum given Mr. Fosdick or among the nine mentioned in the codicil. tions with the aid of her maid until well in cil.

Justice Ingraham decides that in giving the stock to Fosdick, with a list of the institutions that should get it, the testatrix created a valid trust. He decides that the money is to be distributed by Fosdick according to that trust, and not by the codicil. St. John's Guild will, therefore, get its $10,000.

Another lot elegant Swiss Embroidered Dress Patterns, worth 2.98 A claim against the city was filed with Comptroller Myers yesterday by Thomas Skinner, master of the barkentine Linda Park of Belfast. Ireland, for damages occasioned by the Fire-Ireland, for damages occasioned by the Firebout New Yorker. The Linda Park was decked at Pier 48, East River, with carge stowed and ready for sea, on Sanday, June 11, when the warehouse adjoining burned. The fireboat, in coming into the dock, ran into the barkentine's bowsprit, which it carried away, with bobstays, martingale, shrouts, and all the head gear. The master of the barkentine estimates the damage to his vessel and demurrage on its carge at $908.48, which he asks the city to pay.

IF DESIRED, WITH SATISFACTORY ARRANGEMENTS,

HELD THE POLICEMAN INSTEAD.

He created a succession of life estates by his Patrolman McInerney Accused of Savagely will which, it is believed, would invalidate it will which, it is believed, would invalidate it here. For instance, the income of two and a half tentils was to go to Miss Carow, who had not married when the will was made. The income was to go to her children at her death until they reached majorit, when they were to get the remainder. If she had no children her surviving husband was to get the income for life and other disposition was to be made of the principal. Mrs. Roosevelt has three children.

Policeman Daniel J. McInerney of the East Thirty-fifth street station was held in $500 ball in the Yorkville Police Court yesterday for examination to-morrow upon a charge of brutally assaulting a prisoner. The complaint was made at the direction of Justice McMahon. before whom the policeman arraigned the prisoner he is accused of ill treating. McInerney was, at his own request, retired upon a pension of $600 a year by the Police Commissioners last Thursday, he having been twenty vears on the force.

On Sunday McInerney arrested Peter Smith. a young 'longshoreman, who lives at 505 First When he brought the man to the station house, though Smith was cut and bleeding and so weak that he could scarcely stand, the policeman wanted to charge him with assault and intoxication. The Sergeant at the lesk refused to receive the former charge and ordered McInerney to take his prisoner in a back room and wash the blood off his face. While there, it is asserted that the policeman assaulted Smith with a fin cup. Smith was so badly hurt that he had to be taken to the hos-pital, where he stayed until he appeared in Gourt yesterday.

He said that after his arrest, for an alleged assault upon a man in a saloon. McInerney had continued to club him all the way to the station house. The man's appearance, backed up by the testimony of the Nergeant and two women who saw McInerny taking his prisoner through the street, convinced Justice McMahen that the policeman was to blame, and he ordered the complaint made out accordingly.

SIOLE THE DOCTOR'S INSTRUMENTS. Surgeon Gordon Came to Ask Help, and Helped Himself.

A respectable-looking Irishman, 45 years old, who describes himself as Charles Gordon, surgeon, recently arrived from Dublin called on Dr. Joseph F. Land of 130 West 126th street on Friday evening. He told the Doctor that he had been directed to call on him by a friend to see if he, Dr. Land could not secure pair of eye glasses. He ran and evertook Gorpair of eye glasses. He can and evertook tor-don. The missing articles were found in his possession, and he was locked up.

He pleaded hard with Justice Burke in the Harlem Police Court yesterday for lenient treatment. He said that he had been drinking and could not have known what he was doing, He had never been arrested before. He was stopping, he said, in Houston street, west of the Bowery. Justice Burke held him for trial.

Johnny, Jimmy, and Charley were their names. Ranged sentinels naraded on the outside of the crowd watchin fur de sparrers, as they irreverently asnominated the gray-coated park keepers. There was no occasion for posting this cordon of pickets, however, for the "sparrers" were on the shady side of the City Hall. The ranged urchins velica and splashed and the crowd shouted its approval. Nickels, dimes, and quarters were showered into the muddied pool of the fountain and the boys dived after them desperately, coming to the surface puffing and blowing, sometimes with the coveted coin, but oftener with a handful of mud.
